

A close-up photograph of a branch with small red berries against a blue background with white lines. The berries are in various stages of ripeness, some appearing bright red and others more muted. The background consists of a grid of white lines on a blue surface, possibly a window or a wall. The text 'Externality' is written in a large, bold, red font, and 'Adrian Tyler' is written in a smaller, white font below it.

Externality

Adrian Tyler

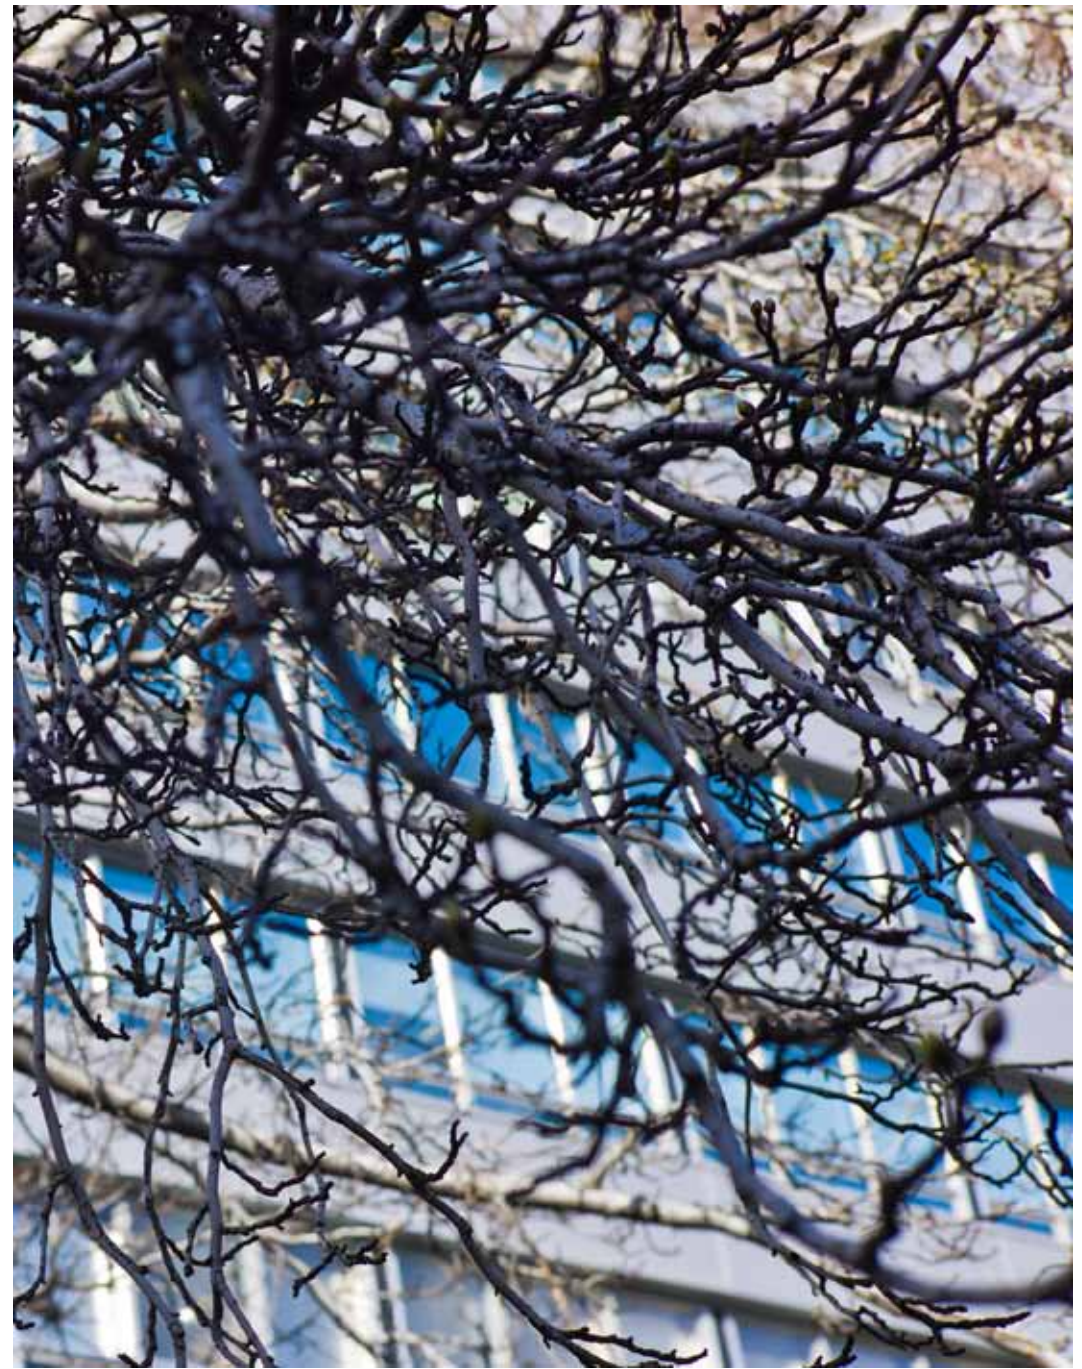

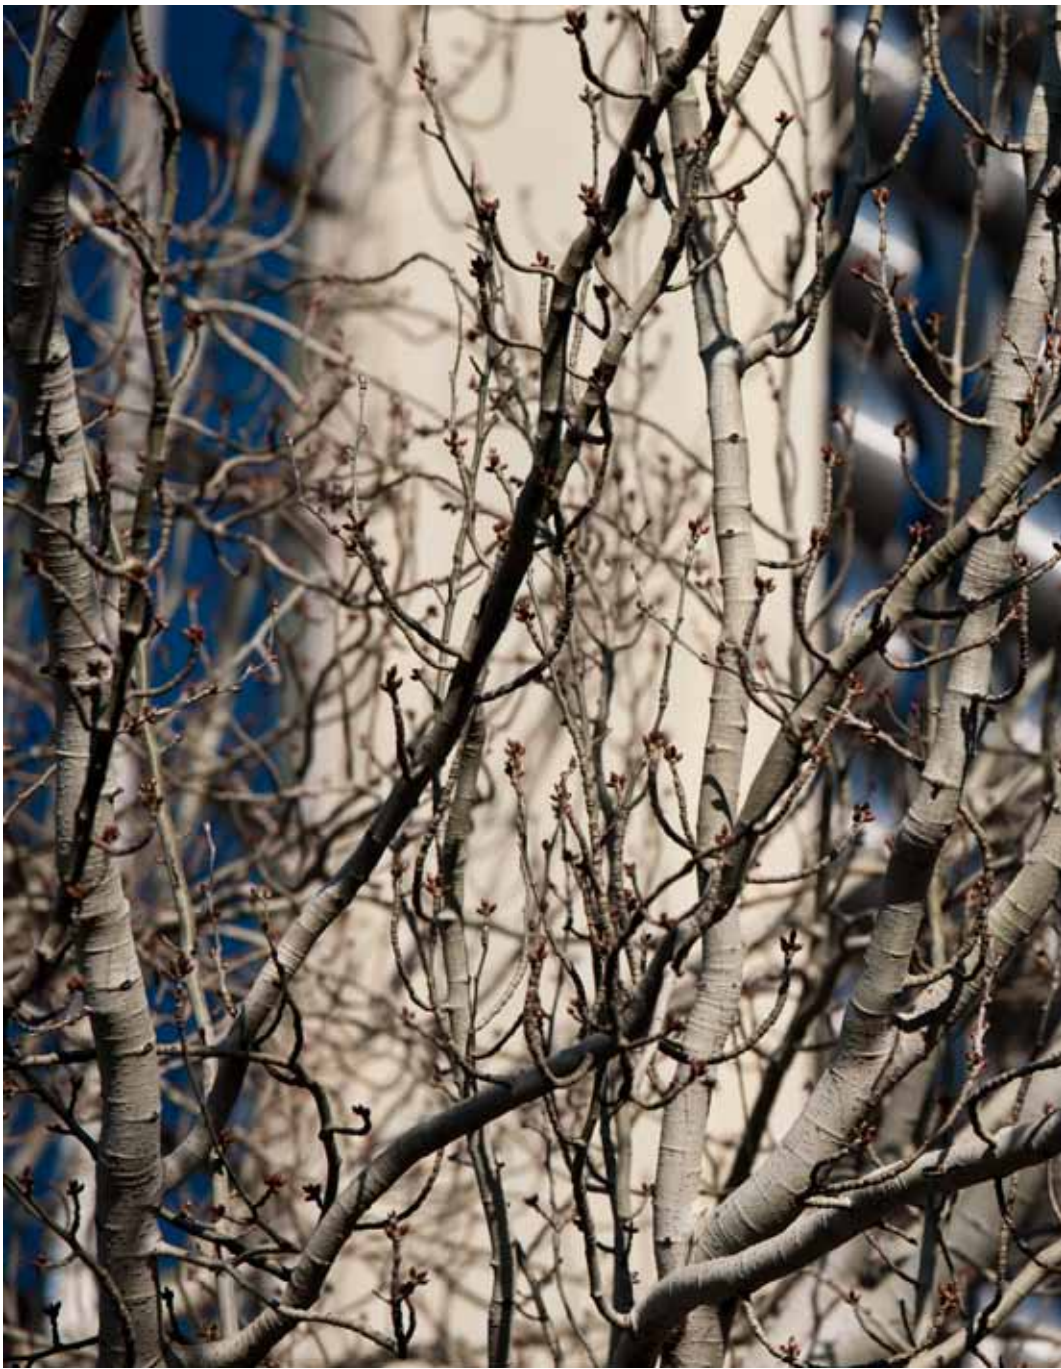

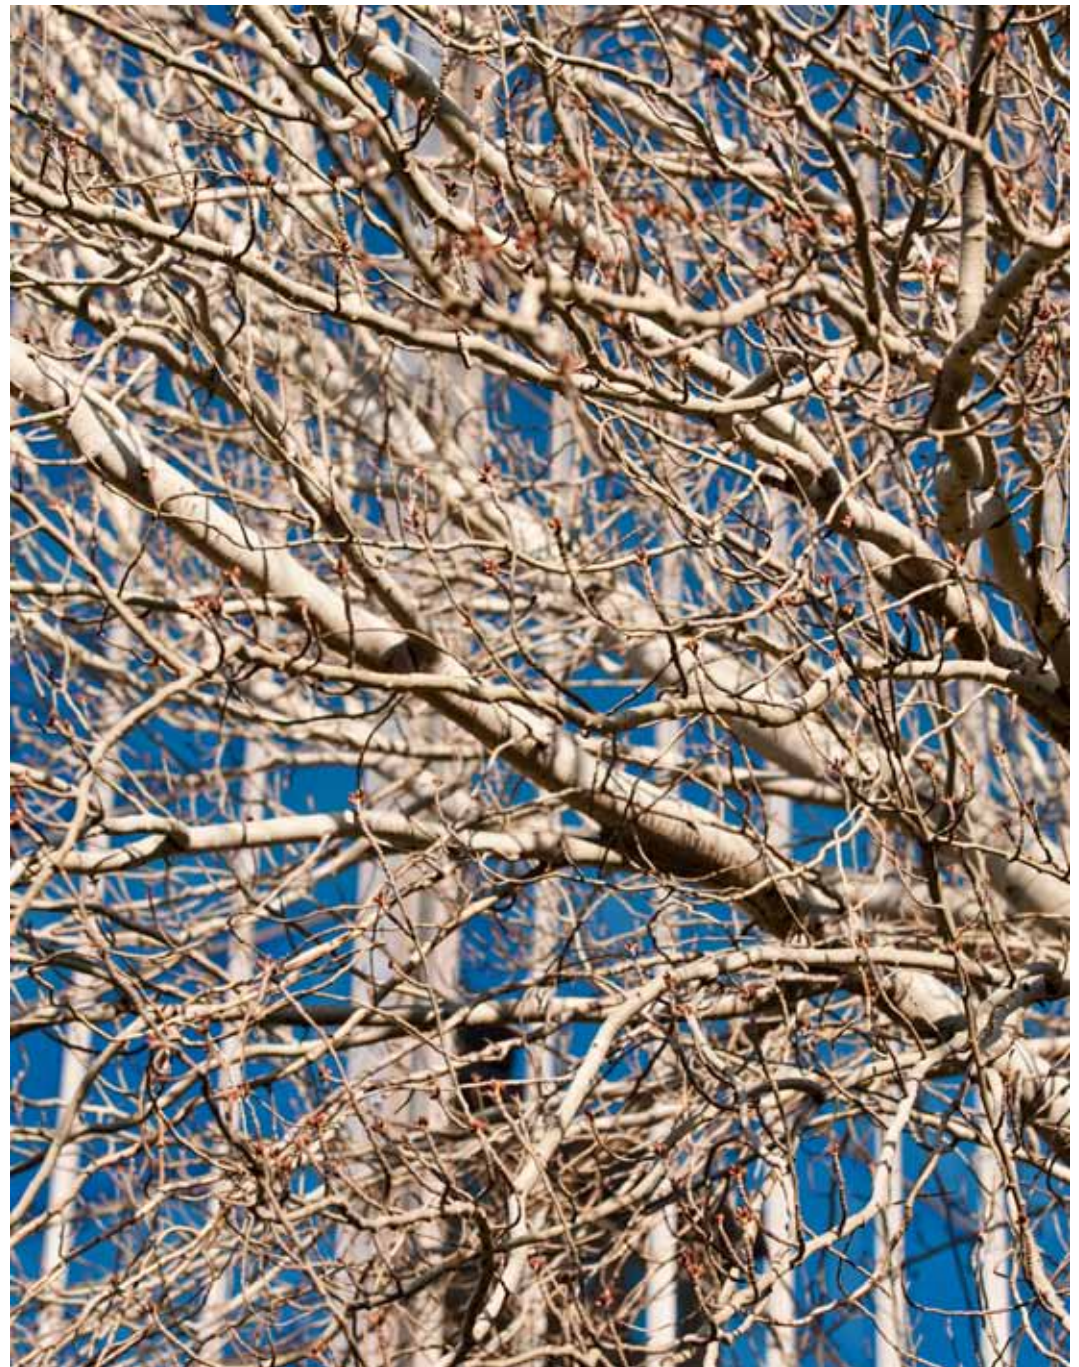

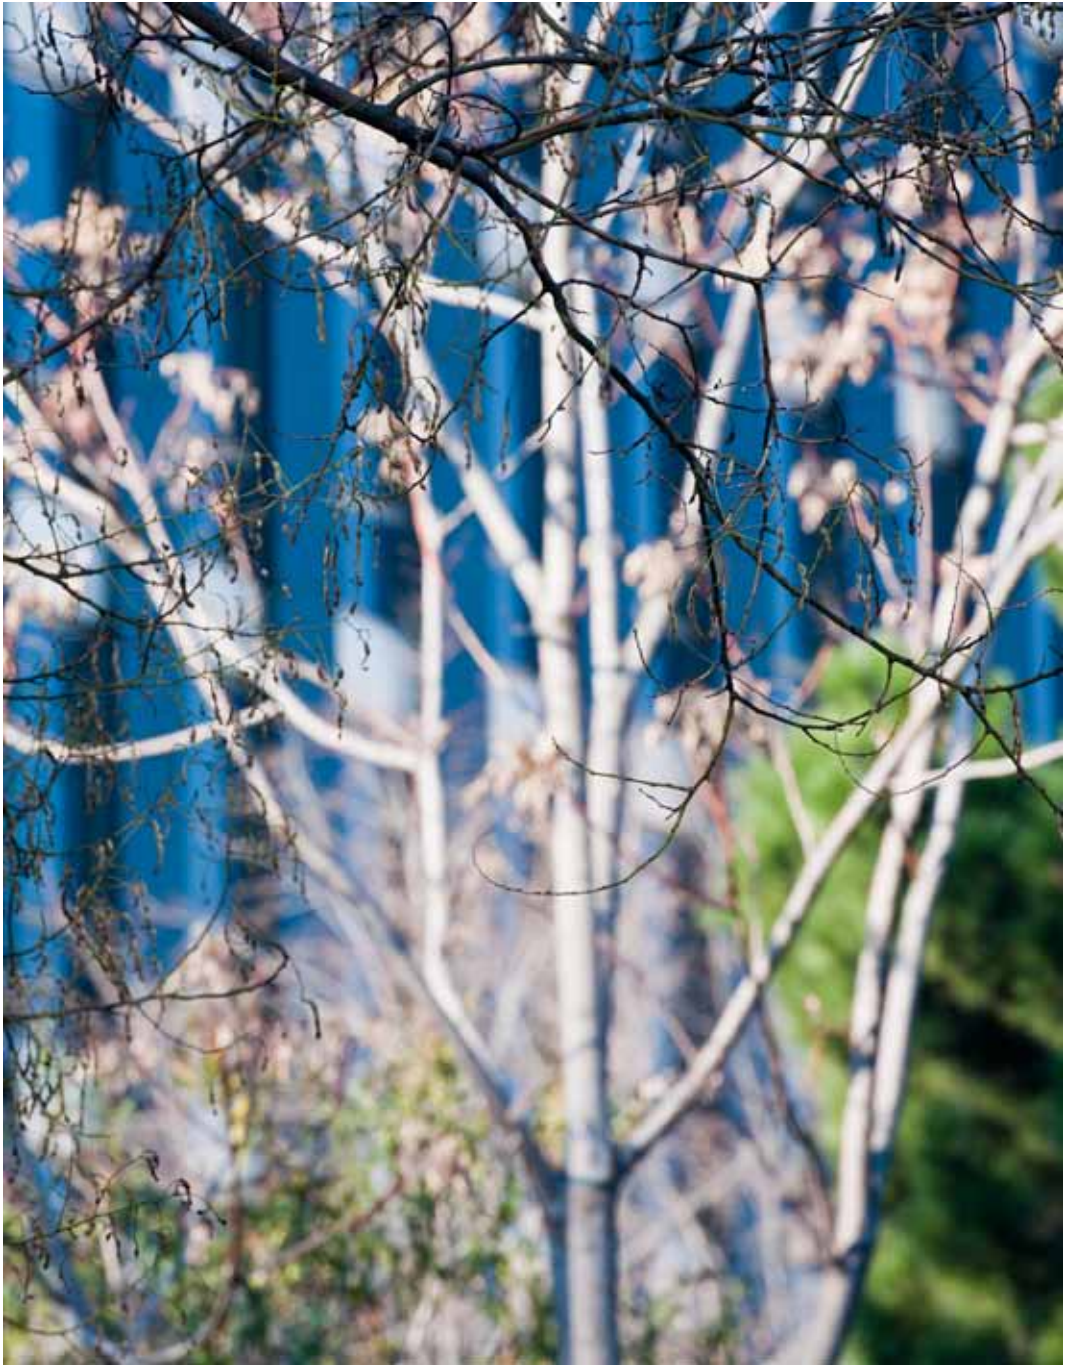

externality (ex|ter|nal|ity)

noun (plural externalities)

1 Economics consequence of an industrial or commercial activity which affects other parties without this being reflected in market prices, such as the pollination of surrounding crops by bees kept for honey.

2 [mass noun] Philosophy the fact of existing outside the perceiving subject.

Externality

Is published in an edition of 250 copies.
200 in digital offset on Gardapat 170 gsm
paper and 50 signed and numbered copies are hand made Pigment Prints on Cotton Rag.

<http://adriantylor.net/>